

And I say to the brothers in the municipality: You are right, this law is like the desert truffle, you never know where it appeared from!