

slumber by adding fourth and fifth floors and subdividing their houses into 12 apartments and leasing for anybody or everybody. If you want to visit such a place, I welcome you! I will show you some of my neighbors who don't care about who they lease to and don't feel sorry for anyone else in the neighborhood. Once he leased for people who grew marijuana, and they were busted by the police. Now we have an unlicensed nursery next door! Such a frustration.

My question is, after the decision to raise the permissible built-up area, how many citizens actually let his children live in his house? And how many citizens exploited the law to invest and lease? Did this decision contribute to solving the housing crisis? If we look at the numbers, we will find out the size of the tragedy.

Now today we find the Ministry of Commerce turning our neighborhoods into workshops. We will find that some businesses are licensed in the names of mothers on behalf of one of their children who is employed by the government. The business licenses will be rented out to non-Kuwaitis along with violating apartments for the purpose of plying a trade, unobserved and in the secrecy of a private home. And let's not forget that the number of the domestic workers will increase as they will inevitably work as the beloved employees of these home businesses.

And believe me, many of the unplanned licenses are going to be exploited, and exhaust the domestic workers' support budget, entering a huge security chaos that we will not be able to control. Eventually, the intended goal will not be achieved, so I hope the municipality will stick to its dismissive attitude toward this idea!
